Occupational Therapy is a changing science. As the new researches and the theoretical and clinical experience progress, our knowledge grows. The compilers of the work and the authors of the chapters have verified all the information with reliable sources in order to make sure that it is complete and appropriated to the accepted standards in the moment of the publication. Still, because of a possible mistake in the transcription or in the data compilation, we recommend the reader to confirm them with other sources.

The compilers and authors have carried out a hard work in order to locate the holders of the copyright of the material here employed. If, by mistake or omission, some holder has not been mentioned, this fact will be rectified in a note that www.revistatog.com will publish on her Web Page once located.

We want to show our gratitude to the people that visit www.revistatog.com. This book is the result of an effort of its compilers and authors, as well as of the commitment of the APGTO, TOG Review and the UDC (in the stage of translation). To use the material offered by this monographic confirmation by the TOG Review through the e-mail address miguelrevistatog@yahoo.es is necessary, as well as the required reference of the monographic and the TOG Review.

TOG Review keeps all the rights about this monographic, for any use of its contents, you should have to ask for express permission from the TOG Review (by means of the following e-mail address miguelrevistatog@yahoo.es)

The Galician Professional Association of Occupational Therapists is the editor of the TOG Review. The main idea of TOG, beyond the Professional Association it starts from, is to achieve a unification of scientific criteria and to join the largest possible number of professionals from this job and related sciences, people that feel identified with the publication.

TOG Review tries to build bridges between the professionals from Latin America and the rest of the world, and the professionals that reside in Spain.

TOG Review tries to have a specific structural and methodological body to be able to offer to its readers a scientific rigor, becoming this way in one, amongst others, of the current knowledge sources.

Thank you also to all the components of Magazine TOG, to the Professional Associations that compose the State Forum of Occupational Therapy, to the Professional Colleges of Occupational Therapy and the editors and directors of the Scientific Spanish Publications, to make that this was so simple.

Another of the mentions and gratefulness are for the Faculty of Health Sciences (in Spanish, Facultad de Ciencias de la Salud, FCS) at the University of La Coruña (Universidad de La Coruña, UDC) and to their headship team (who trusts in TOG Magazine for second year) for the economic important support that has offered to be able to allow that this publication sees the light in the contexts of Hispanic-speaking and who opens up to the group of English-speaking countries. To Mr. Jorge Teijeiro Vidal (Dean of the Faculty of Health Sciences), to believe in this project, to Mr. Sergio Santos del Riego (Vice-dean), for his constant support to our discipline, and to Mrs. Inés Viana Moldes (Academic Secretary), Mrs. Adriana Ávila Álvarez (responsible for Quality and Convergence) and Mrs. Carmen García Pinto (responsible for the Occupational Observatory), to promote the Occupational Therapy at institutional level in our Autonomous Community. To All the Lecturers, Occupational Therapists and other ones, from FCS, who make possible that the history of the Occupational Therapy continues in our days. Thanks to this management, TOG Magazine can offer a total visibility of its contents more than ever. And mainly we would like to thank to the Galician Professional Association of Occupational Therapy (Asociación Profesional Gallega de Terapia Ocupacional, APGTO) to trust in TOG Magazine, with the intact illusion since the first moment. I will never be able to appreciate so much people's effort for a common project like which today culminates.

This is the result of your effort.

Miguel Ángel Talavera Valverde
Mr Miguel Ángel Talavera Valverde, compiler of this monographic, want to acknowledge the effort carried out by Professional Associations of Occupational Therapy, Professional Occupational Therapists’ Associations, entities in charge of the promotion of Occupational Therapy and Universities where the Occupational Therapy studies develop in order to make this possible, as well as their collaboration with the support and spreading of this proposal.
